LEASING AND PRIVATE PROPERTY POLICY

INTRODUCTION: A sound Leasing and Private Property Policy is key to the long-term viability of the Port. The Port generates significant revenues which it uses to preserve and enhance its properties and facilities and thereby help drive the economy of Jefferson County. It is the policy of the Port of Port Townsend to (i) retain and recruit businesses that will provide sustainable community-wage jobs, and (ii) seek rents and charges for the use of public real and personal property that provide a fair rate of return to the citizens of Jefferson County. The Strategic Plan articulates how the Port intends to fulfill its mission to the community. The Strategic Plan makes clear that the Port takes its mission to generate countywide economic vitality and employment opportunities seriously, but that it wishes to do so in a manner that balances the economic, environmental and social consequences of its decision-making. Consistent with the Strategic Plan, it is the Port’s policy to negotiate leases, and purchase private property, and sell Port property that will: (i) attract and retain businesses based on sound business, financial and operational plans; and (ii) provide a fair rate of return for the Port and private property owners so that the Port and private investors can continue to invest in the economic vitality of the community.

The general policies of the Port regarding industrial/commercial land and buildings are as follows:

DRAFT Changes to Port of Port Townsend Leasing Policy

1. Rental rates and charges for Port real and personal property should be the fair market rental rate and charges. It is recognized that fair market value rental rates and charges help the Port to maintain the public assets thereby providing a predictable environment for Port tenants and quality facilities and services to the citizens of Jefferson County. The Port will generally charge fair market value lease rates, rental rates and charges for the use of Port real and personal property assets.
2. Fair market value rental rates should be based upon the value of the Port real property and improvements thereon multiplied by a Port standard rate of return. The value of Port property and improvements multiplied by a Port standard rate of return will provide a fair and equitable method of determining rental rates that treats all tenants fairly and provides a fair return to the citizens of Jefferson County.
3. The value of Port and privately owned property and improvements should be determined by recurring market analyses or appraisal. The Port should conduct recurring market analyses (i.e., at least once every five (5) years) to establish and maintain appropriate rental rates for Port-owned land and buildings. The Port will conduct periodic rental surveys of comparable properties in the Western Washington area (including land, buildings, and private and public assets). Market analyses and rental surveys may be completed by a MAI (Member of the Appraisal Institute) appraiser. The Port will also consider other indicators (modifiers) of reasonable fair market rental value in setting rental rates, including parcel size, location, inflation occurring since the date of the last survey, changes in the rental market since the date of the last survey, waiting lists, competing offers for the same properties, the overall economic climate and any other evidence of fair market rental value.
 - a. The Port should provide a table of the fair market value rental rates for all its classes of properties.
 - b. Absent a compelling reason, generally, the Port will charge the fair market value rental rates and refrain from providing a special rate to a particular tenant because this is generally unfair to other similarly situated tenants and is not in keeping with the Port's stewardship responsibilities.
 - c. Depending on the particular circumstances, tenants may be allowed a reasonable period (not to exceed two (2) years) to reach fair market value rent.
 - d. Any purchase of privately owned property by the Port will be based on fair market value determined by an appraisal.
4. The Port's standard rate of return. Fair market rental value is based on the fee simple value of the Port real property and improvement thereon multiplied by at least nine and one-half percent (9.5%).
5. Rental rates should be adjusted annually and reevaluated periodically. Generally Port expenses, such as personnel, maintenance and repair, increase over time. Likewise, rental rates should increase over time and in-step with increases in the private sector rental market in Jefferson County. Therefore, each lease will include a provision that allows the Port to adjust rental rates to the fair market rental rates then prevailing for comparable properties in the Western Washington area at five (5) year intervals (beginning January 1, 2020), bearing in mind all allowable uses of the property and all services and amenities available to the property by virtue of its location. These adjustments are intended to minimize the misalignment that may occur between a fixed rate with CPI escalations and a reviewed market rate. However, periodic market rate adjustments should not result in more than a five percent (5%) increase in rent from the rent paid in the prior year. Alterations or improvements undertaken by a tenant to make a property suitable for a tenant's purposes should not be factored in the valuation of the rental rate for a renewal or extension term of that tenant's lease.

- a. Between periodic rate adjustments in rent, adjustments equal to the amount found on the Consumer Price Index for all urban consumers (CPI-U) for Seattle-Tacoma-Bellevue (compiled by the US Department of Labor, Bureau of Statistics) will take effect annually.
 - b. Each lease will allow for the automatic CPI increase on the anniversary of its effective date. Rent adjustments should not result in a reduction in rent from the rate paid in the prior year.
6. Lease term & options to extend. An initial lease term for either land or buildings will be determined in consideration of the needs of the tenant, the investment of the tenant, design standards of any improvements, the useful life of the improvements, the economic value provided to the community, and the needs of the Port. The lease may provide options granted to the tenant to extend the lease.
- a. The initial term ~~may~~ can be extended at the option of the lessee, provided that: the tenant has met the maintenance standards outlined in the lease, made upgrades extending the useful life of any improvements (including buildings), and the proposed additional term is supported by outside professionals such as structural engineers and/or architects, licensed inspectors, the generation of economic value to the community, and the needs of the Port.
 - b. Generally, the initial lease term and option periods together should not exceed the anticipated useful life of the improvements, or thirty (30) years.
 - c. Longer term leases may require the tenant to periodically upgrade improvements.
7. Special Assessments for Capital Improvements. Different classes of Port tenants and facility users benefit from particular Port capital infrastructure and improvements (e.g., Boat Yard stormwater system improvements, haul-out piers, etc.). From time to time, the Port may apply special assessments to fund the cost of capital improvements that directly benefit specific tenant classes and user groups. These special assessments should ensure that all directly benefited users equitably share in the cost of such capital improvements. The Commission will ensure that special assessments are subject to adequate public notice and opportunity for input prior to adoption and implementation.
8. Non-exclusive common areas – Multi-tenant buildings. The Port recognizes that multiple tenants may use common areas within Port-owned multi-tenant buildings such as entrance lobbies, restrooms, hallways, stairways and storage areas. The Port may require tenants that use common areas in multi-tenant buildings to pay fair market rent for the non-exclusive use, and share in an equitable manner, in the maintenance and upkeep of the common areas with the Port and other common area users.

STANDARD LEASE PROVISIONS

INTRODUCTION: Prudent business practice requires that a standard Port lease be the basis of all lease negotiations. A standard lease provides fairness to all Port tenants and protection of public assets. It is noted that as the steward of public assets the Port is a unique landlord that must act in the public interest. Such standard provisions include but are not limited to the following: indemnification and hold harmless, environmental, the Port's right of entry for inspection, maintenance of the premises, taxes, fixtures and equipment, liability and casualty insurance, retention of air rights, FAA requirements, condemnation, default, costs and attorney fees, notices, waivers, and month-to-month "holdover" tenancy upon termination of lease.

1. Use. The Port will seek to limit the use on its leaseholds to a specific purpose. Leases that allow that provide for "all use allowed by zoning" or "all legal uses" will not be approved.
2. Rent. The Port leases will contain standard provisions related to rent including late charges and penalties. The calculation of rent will include exclusive use areas and nonexclusive (common area) use areas within Port-owned multi-tenant buildings.
3. Multi-tenant buildings – Common area charges. Tenants using common areas within Port-owned buildings may be required to pay an equitable share of the cost of maintaining and operating such areas.
4. Utility charges. In addition to rent, tenants will pay for utilities used by the tenant and billed to the Port. Where possible, Port tenants should establish their own accounts with utility providers. Port utility charges, including water, should be priced to allow the Port to maintain and operate the system.
5. Rent security. All leases in excess of one-year should be secured by a rent performance bond or other security (cash deposit, blocked account) acceptable to the Port in an amount of not less than three (3) months' rent, applicable Washington state leasehold excise tax, anticipated common area charges, and anticipated utility charges. Leases of one year or less (including all options to renew) may be secured by one months' rent, applicable Washington state leasehold excise tax, and anticipated utility charges. However, pursuant to RCW 53.08.085, the Port Commission, in its sole discretion, may raise, lower, or waive the required rent security on leases of real property.
6. Structural Changes or Improvements. Structural changes to buildings require the prior written consent of the Port. Upon termination of the lease, all tenant owned improvements must be removed at the cost of the tenant, or, if not removed by the tenant and at the Port's option, either (i) removed by the Port at the tenant's expense or (i) become the property of the Port. Alterations or improvements undertaken by a tenant to make a property suitable for the tenant's purposes should not be included in the valuation of the rental rate for a renewal or extension term of that tenant's lease.

7. Assignment. The Port generally prohibits any assignment or sublease by a tenant without the prior written consent of the Port having first been obtained. The Port will allow assignment of the tenant's leasehold interest as collateral for a loan where the proceeds will be used on the leasehold.
8. Liability Insurance. Insurance provisions require the tenant to obtain and maintain commercial general liability insurance with the Port endorsed as an additional insured and prohibit cancellation of insurance without prior notice to the Port. The current amount of required insurance is $1,000,000 combined single limit. The Port may periodically revise this amount to keep pace with market conditions. The Port may require additional forms of insurance or additional limits of insurance for particular uses (for example pollution legal liability for a fueling operation).
9. Damage or destruction of tenant property on leasehold. The tenant will be solely responsible for damage or destruction of its property on the leasehold. This risk should be covered by tenant insurance.
10. Limited waiver of immunity under the Industrial Insurance Act. The Port will require all tenants to provide a limited waiver of immunity under the Industrial Insurance Act or other similar federal scheme for personal injury lawsuit against the Port brought by employees of the tenant.
11. Indemnifications. The tenant will be required to save, defend and indemnify the Port from (i) any claims arising from injuries on Port property or their leasehold as a result of their activities, (ii) any release of hazardous substances on the leasehold (iii) a violation of law by the tenant.
12. Lease enforcement. The leases will contain standard provisions (such as default, termination and attorney fees) to allow the Port to expeditiously enforce the terms of the lease.
13. Holding over. The leases will contain standard language which provides that continuing in possession of a premises after the expiration of a lease (i.e., "holding over") creates a month-to-month tenancy, subject to the same terms and conditions set forth in the prior lease, except that the rent will be increased to 125% of the rate in effect during the month preceding expiration of the lease.

D. MAINTENANCE RESPONSIBILITIES & COSTS

1. Maintenance responsibilities - Port-owned buildings.
 - a. The Port is responsible for maintaining in good condition the structural parts of the buildings it leases, including the foundations, bearing and exterior walls, subflooring and roofs, the unexposed electrical, plumbing and sewerage systems (including those portions of the systems lying outside the leasehold), exterior doors, window frames, gutters, downspouts, and the heating, and the ventilating and air conditioning system serving such buildings (if any).
 - b. Lessees are responsible for maintaining and repairing all interior walls, floors, ceilings, doors, interior and exterior windows and fixtures, and for repairing damage caused to any portion of Port-owned buildings.

2. Maintenance costs – Port-owned buildings. As may be applicable, the Port will schedule and coordinate all HVAC system, fire alarm and suppression system and gutter maintenance and may bill each tenant as part of its common area maintenance fees.

E. CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS

Plan for Port-Owned Improvements. For Port-owned buildings or other improvements, Port staff will develop management plans that include maintenance and capital improvement schedules and budgets for each building. The maintenance and capital improvement budgets will be included in the Port's annual operating and capital improvement budgets and six-year capital facility plan (updated annually). This will include a reserve sinking fund for replacement of deteriorating items like roofs, asphalt, building poles, parking lots, landscaping, etc.

F. DUE DILIGENCE

Port staff will conduct due-diligence. For new tenants Port staff will conduct appropriate due diligence, which will include gathering financial data concerning the prospective tenants using a standard form developed by Port staff. In addition, for appropriate proposed transactions, Port staff will conduct appropriate additional due diligence (such as site visits, interviews of previous landlords and public records check). Port staff may also conduct appropriate due diligence for significant lease renewals or modifications.

G. OPEN PUBLIC RECORDS

All records public. All information provided to the Port is subject to the requirements of the Washington Public Records Act (chapter 42.56 RCW). All prospective tenants will be informed that anything submitted to the Port is a public record. If a public records request is made, the Port will notify the party (typically a prospective lessee) submitting the records.

~~H. VARIATIONS FROM POLICY The policy set forth above may be varied from time to time to fit instances as is deemed advisable by the Port.~~

H I. REVIEW OF POLICY

This leasing policy will be reviewed from time to time as deemed appropriate by the Port Commission.
